Jeannette's Video

January 22, 1998 The day I became a part of the Van Tran family. Which has become a big part of my life.

Being a Van Operator, not only have I learned the city quite well, but also learned to be patient and responsive to my passengers needs. I have made great friends along the way, and I have lost many great people who showed me the importance of life.

Every year has been an amazing experience for me, dealing with a variety of people and personalities. I feel I have proved to be pretty versatile. I appreciate the opportunity you have given me to expand my horizons.

Working in the front, as a receptionist has been interesting for me, I have been able to practice my people skills, which I feel is one of my strong points.
